

The ITV Resources Book

The Instructional Television team, part of the Office of eLearning at the South Carolina Department of Education, works closely with South Carolina ETV to provide ITV resources and services to South Carolina public schools. ITV is responsible for the selection of resources, the development of local programming to support our K-12 curriculum and the scheduling of the approved resources. ETV provides expert production and technical delivery services to support instructional programming.

Special notes on the 2009-2010 ITV Resources book:

- Information in the *ITV Resources book includes lesson titles, catalog numbers and lesson lengths for the block fee programs (see Below), and the lesson titles, lengths, and catalog numbers for the “By Request” series (also see below).
- If a series title does NOT appear in this book in Sections II or III, the series has been removed. It is a violation of copyright to use these deleted resources, unless retention rights are arranged with the vendor. See page 6.
- ALL SERIES ARE BLOCK FED. Like last year, most series will ONLY be available via block feeds. We have discontinued the weekly feeds with the exception of programs such as South Carolina: In the News. This block feed schedule will continue to be announced in the monthly ITV Update and will be reflected in the online schedule which can be found on the ITV Web site at www.itv.scetv.org.
- Broadcast Resources Available Online. More than 1,200 ITV and ETV broadcast resources are also available in StreamlineSC. These are marked with “SL” in the Curriculum Overview and the Alphabetical Description.
- The revised indication, REV, can mean several things: totally new programs produced for this year, new programs added to the existing series, re-edited, or captioned programs.
- Unless otherwise noted, all programs in a series indicated by [CC] to the right of the title are closed-captioned. Programs that are revised with captioning are announced in the monthly ITV Update.
- The IMPORTANT rights statement for each resource is located just below the series description. It is a violation of copyright to dub programs that do not have duplication rights.
- The Teachers’ Guide order form is on our Web site at www.itv.scetv.org. Many guides are also available electronically from that site.
- Teleconferences and electronic field trips are included in Section II. Please note that these programs are usually provided LIVE, so they do not go through the review process. Also, teacher guide materials are provided, if available, only on the announced Web site.

If you have questions or comments about the ITV Resources book, please call ITV at 877-885-5272 or 803-737-3275.

Most Current Information on the ITV Schedule

- The ITV Web site always contains the latest schedule information. The ITV Resources book was compiled in June 2009 and the information contained in this book is subject to change. The monthly ITV Update will announce as many changes as possible, but changes do occur after the update is printed. The monthly ITV Update is on the ITV Web site by the 25th of the previous month. The ITV Web site is the only place you can find up-to-date schedule information about ITV broadcast schedules.

NEWSFLASH Section

- New additions to the schedule and any changes to ITV programming are announced in the NEWSFLASH section. Try to check this every day!

Other Key Information

- Information on ITV Series, including available flyers that can be downloaded, is located on the Web site along with current details on the ITV recertification courses, professional development offerings and distance learning opportunities. Current information on the availability of new teacher guides and how they can be accessed is also listed on the Web site.

NOTE: All NEW programs added this year are shaded in gray.
