The Governor of South Carolina signed the Financial Literacy Act in April 2005 mandating that personal finance be taught in grades K through 12. In an effort to assist South Carolina teachers in implementing the Financial Literacy Act, State Credit Union, ETV and Instructional Television with SDE have produced a Financial Literacy Workshop Webinar course for SC teachers in conjunction with the NEFE (National Endowment for Financial Education) High School Financial Planning Program.

Course Synopsis

This Webinar course, conducted by Suzette Morganelli, Manager of the Financial Counseling and Education Department at State Credit Union, trains teachers on the implementation of the NEFE High School Financial Planning Program (HSFPP) to help overcome the financial literacy problems among our young students. Through this Webinar course, educators will learn how to effectively teach essential personal finance skills in their classrooms. The HSFPP offers a comprehensive, seven-unit curriculum providing students with a basic understanding of the responsibilities of successful money management.
